“Furthermore the LORD spake unto me, saying, I have seen this people, and, behold, it is a stiffnecked people” (Deut. 9:13). This was said to Moses after the people rejected God by making a molten calf to worship. In fact, God tells Moses that maybe it is best if he would just destroy all of them and make a new people for Moses to lead.

In our lifetimes, we come in contact with all types of people. There are the “I can’s!” (Phil. 4:13). Individuals who realize that if “God is for you, who can be against you!”

There are also the “I can’t” people. They never fail because they never try. They are bitter because they sit stalled in life.

Next, we find the “who cares” populace. James speaks of the man who gazes in the mirror and then walks away forgetting who he was (Jas. 1:23, 24).

Last, but not least, there are the “I won’t” people. No matter how clearly the word is preached, they never see beyond their own prejudices. Salvation could be knocking at their door, but they refuse to even grab the knob. These sad folks drown in their own inconsistencies, and refuse hope, grace, and truth.

So sad, but true!
