“Thou shalt not go up and down as a talebearer among thy people: neither shalt thou stand against the blood of thy neighbour: I am the LORD” (Lev. 19:16). “He that goeth about as a talebearer revealeth secrets: therefore meddle not with him that flattereth with his lips” (Prov. 20:19).

A few men, one day, were sitting and talking. One exclaimed, “Have you heard about the new kid in town?” “No!,” said his friends. “Well he is a problem for this community. He drinks, and sits with criminals and such.” “What do you think we should do about it?” said one of the friends. “I say let the authorities settle the matter, and maybe, if we are lucky, they will run him out of town, throw him jail, or maybe even crucify him.” Later, that same year, the man was crucified between two other criminals (Matt. 11:19, Matt. 27:38).

Reading the gospel story, one realizes that gossip was one of the sins that led Jesus to the cross. That tongue, so condemned by the Bible (Psa. 34:14; James 3:5-8), has led innocent men to the gallows, broken up families, and destroyed friendships.

Hence, as saints, let’s use our tongues to glorify Jesus, and save sinners.
