Being married to Judy was the best time of my life. She loved the church and adored her kids and grandkids. We cried together, laughed together, and lived in poverty with smiles on our faces. Yet in that poverty, we were fused together in Christ.

Solomon wrote, “Her children arise up, and call her blessed; her husband also, and he praiseth her. Many daughters have done virtuously, but thou excellest them all” (Prov. 31:28, 29). Without a doubt this passage epitomizes Judy.

I truly saw more joy in Judy since we came to Paulding. This is a congregation of loving souls with a leadership that is awesome. The luncheons and bible studies with the ladies deepened her faith. And the activities with her sisters and brothers gave her a sense of belonging.

I could never repay this congregation for putting the spark back in Judy's eye. It will be forever etched in my heart.

I read of a man who stood to speak at the funeral of a friend.
He referred to the dates on the tombstone from the beginning to the end.

He noted first came the date of the birth and spoke the following date with tears.
But he said what mattered most of all was the dash between the years.

For that dash represents all the time that they spent life on Earth.
And now only those who loved them know what that little line is worth.

For it matters not how much we own, the cars, the house, the cash.
What matters is how we live and love, and how we spend our dash.

So, think about this long and hard. Are there things you'd like to change?
For you never know how much time is left that can still be rearranged.

If we could just slow down enough to consider what's true and real,
and always try to understand the way other people feel.

Be less quick to anger and show appreciation more,
and love the people in our lives like we've never loved before.

If we treat each other with respect and more often wear a smile, remembering that this special dash might only last a little while.

So, when your eulogy is being read with your life's actions to rehash, would you be proud of the things they say about how you spent your dash?
